The Eurostars Universal Lisboa is a design hotel, recently opened, designed to live a luxury stay. It is located in the modern neighborhood of Parque das Nações, where in 1998 the World Exposition was held, whose main theme was the oceans. That's why the hotel is conceptually inspired by the compass rose, symbolized by an interior patio around which the wind blows, welcoming its guests as if they were sea travelers. These allusions to the sea can also be seen in its rooms, where dark woods and light tones are mixed with shades of blue, with references to the most significant details of the Lisbon capital. Designed to pamper your senses, Eurostars Universal Lisboa is filled with luxurious details and facilities, including an impressive rooftop swimming pool, a spa and gym area, event rooms and a restaurant where you can enjoy the best of Portuguese cuisine. In addition, it has parking for greater convenience.
